Nashua and the Greater Nashua Public Health Region Plans for Response to Any Potential Ebola Virus Disease

NASHUA – Since early August, the City of Nashua Division of Public Health and Community Services (DPHCS) has been working with partners in the Greater Nashua Public Health Region (GNPHR) to prepare for a suspect Ebola case in our community. The GNPHR consists of the following towns: Amherst, Brookline, Hollis, Hudson, Litchfield, Lyndeborough, Mason, Merrimack, Milford, Mont Vernon, Nashua, Pelham, and Wilton.

In collaboration with medical partners, specific actions have been taken to prepare and respond to a suspect Ebola case in the Greater Nashua community. The Division is currently monitoring the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) website and is in communication with the NH Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Division of Public Health Services (DPHS), to implement infection control guidance and disseminate information to medical providers and the general population.

In addition to monitoring for situational awareness, the DPHCS staff have actively attended and hosted multiple conference calls and webinars with local and state partners to discuss the current situation and recommended response guidance. Communication with regional municipalities, emergency management directors, health officers, medical partners, and other related organizations has also been a priority. In the past week a screening tool for use in hospitals for emergency department, urgent care and triage staff to use to monitor for suspect Ebola cases was disseminated. As the City of Nashua DPHCS coordinates and plans for our response to a suspect Ebola case in New Hampshire, we will continue to work closely with both hospitals, local medical partners and other key organizations and share widely any updates or information that may put our community at risk for Ebola disease.

"I have the utmost confidence in both our Division of Public Health and Community Services and Emergency Management staff in working with state and local authorities to be certain we are in the best position possible to handle a suspect Ebola case within our community," added Mayor Donnalee Lozaue.

If you have any questions about regional efforts to plan for our response to a suspect Ebola case, please contact the City of Nashua Division of Public Health and Community Services at 589-4560 or visit their website at <http://bit.ly/NashuaPHHealth> where they have been posting the most up-to-date information.

SHARE Outreach Collaborating with SJCS Meals on Wheels

NEW HAMPSHIRE – October 2014: For the last three months, the Meals on Wheels program, operated by SJCS, and the SHARE program of Milford have been collaborating on providing additional services to SJCS' Meals on Wheels clients. SHARE created a custom shopping list for Milford and surrounding area Meals on Wheels clients identified as having the greatest need. Food items and paper goods, such as toilet paper and paper towels, are just a few of the items on the shopping list that clients can request. A new shopping list is delivered each week, which the clients will fill out and return with their Meals on Wheels driver.

Chuck Nickerson, SJCS Site Coordinator at the Milford site, shared that "Grocery items are delivered each week...The drivers really enjoy being a part of this and also provide assistance to some Meals on Wheels clients in putting away their groceries."

Some of the Meals on Wheels clients that are being served by SHARE are past clients of the pantry, and now that they are homebound, they are unable to get to the pantry to utilize their services.

This collaboration is a great way for them to get the additional goods that they need where otherwise they may have been struggling to obtain them.

SHARE provides food, clothing, and emergency financial assistance to area families in need who do not qualify for government assistance or for whom that assistance is insufficient or delayed in coming. SHARE also collaborates with other organizations to provide access to services and information, with a goal to promote self reliance while maintaining the dignity of clients. (<http://www.sharenh.org/>, <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Share-Outreach-Inc/119819214740264>)

SJCS is dedicated to promoting better physical, mental, and social well being of older and other qualified adults through the provision of nutritious meals, health education, opportunities for social interaction, and other related services. SJCS strives to meet the diverse needs of its clients through volunteerism and extensive collaboration with other community services. To find out more about SJCS, visit www.MealsOnWheelsNH.org,
