Morning Book Discussion

The next selection in the Daland Memorial Library's morning book discussion program will be The Devil in the White City: Murder, Magic, and Madness at the Fair that Changed America by Erik Larson. The story follows two men whose lives are connected by the 1893 World's Fair in Chicago. Daniel H. Burnham is the architect who designed the Fair and the other, H.H. Holmes, is a serial killer. The author's research on these two men and his narration make for a mesmerizing read. The book published in 2003 was a National Book Award Finalist. The discussion will be held on Monday, November 3 at 9:30 a.m. at the library. Copies of the book are now available at the library.

The group usually meets once a month and the meetings last an hour and a half to two hours. Participants take turns bringing a light refreshment. No attendance requirement - attend discussions that are of interest. The library purchases a copy of each selection that may be checked out by library patrons when the book is not reserved for the discussion. Multiple copies of the book are made available through inter-library loan. The program is suitable for adults and open to Mont Vernon residents at no charge. For bookkeeping purposes, non-residents wanting to borrow a book will need to join the library, annual fee is $15. Questions call the library at 673-7888.
